Personal Property Tax Denounced by Cadwalader

Introduces Bill to Eliminate Tax on Securities Paying
No Dividends

"PRESENT LAW UNFAIR"

Two bills advocating the elimination of the eight-mill personal property tax on securities which yield no dividends within the year, were introduced to the State Legislature last week by Lambert Cadwalader, of Villanova.

Cadwalader, as representative for the First Legislative District, declared that the bills answered a State-wide protest against personal property tax laws.

As the law now stands, Cadwalader declares, it discriminates unjustly against many thrifty but comparatively poor people who have put their small savings into mortgages or other interest-bearing bonds or dividend-paying securities.

He pointed out that many of these investments, once considered gilt-edged securities, are now not earning a penny.

"Yet their owners," he said, "thousands of them people of small means, are required under the present laws to pay the unreasonable rate of eight mills' tax on every dollar of their unprofitable investment."

"Administration leaders talk much of relieving the people of unjust burdens," Cadwalader continued. "Here is an opportunity for them to prove their sincerity. If it is right to relieve the million dollar bidder for Government and State bonds from the payment of any tax whatsoever on the guaranteed interest he receives from his investment, then it is certainly right to do as much for the people who have put their money into

2 Burned as Flames Cause $5000 Damage

Chauffeur and Son Seared on Hands and Face as Blaze Guts Garage

Gasoline being poured into the tank of an automobile in Wynnewood on Monday suddenly ignited and the flames badly burned Robert Wood, 42, Philadelphia, chauffeur, and his son, Harold, 22, and caused damage to a garage and gardener's cottage estimated at $5000.

The men were taken from the scene of the fire, on the property of Frank C. Roberts, Cherry lane, Wynnewood, to Bryn Mawr Hospital, where they were treated for burns about the face and hands.

Lower Merion police, to whom the alarm was given, called both the Merion Fire Company of Ardmore, and Narberth Fire Company, whose members fought the blaze for an hour and a half.

Whether a short circuit, or gas spilled on the hot exhaust pipe, caused the gasoline to ignite, Wood was unable to say.

Where Narberth Tax Dollar Goes In School and Borough Services

(This article by Edwin P. Doll, tax collector for Narberth's borough and school district, was prepared for use in the civics classes of the Narberth Public School. Our Town considers it of such value to all borough residents that it is reprinted here in full.—Ed.)

Referring to the 2nd Chapter of Luke, 1st, 2nd and 3rd Verses, is found the following quotation:

"And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed."

"And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria."

"And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city."

Taxes are a necessary evil; everyone dislikes to pay them, and yet they must be paid in one form or another, and so it may be of interest to know just how our taxes originate in this borough, and also how each dollar is spent.

County Board of Commissioners.

Fred Peters Elected President of Board

Chosen Monday as Head of Montgomery County Commis- sioners Succeeding Ridgway

Fred C. Peters, of Ardmore, was elected president of the Montgomery County Board of Commissioners at a meeting held Monday afternoon.

Peters replaces William D. Ridgway, whose resignation became effective March 15.

Until the time of his election as county commissioner in 1935, Mr. Peters had served successive terms in the State Legislature.

From 1933 to 1935 he was head of the Highway Committee of the House of Representatives, one of the most responsible posts in the House.

A graduate of Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass., and the Massachusetts State Agricultural College, he came to Ardmore to make his home in 1908.

During the World War he saw active service in the St. Mihiel Drive and the Battle of Argonne. At the close of the war he was elected the first commander of the Bullock-Sanderson Post, American Legion, Ardmore.

He is one of the owners of St. Mary's Laundry, Ardmore.

Dr. Van Ness Supply Minister in St. Petersburg Churches

The following item appeared recently in The Presbyterian, a religious weekly published in Philadelphia, and will be of interest to many of our readers. Dr. and Mrs. John VanNess, of Narberth, are spending the winter in St. Petersburg, Florida. Dr. VanNess supplied the pulpit of the beautiful Peace Memorial Presbyterian Church in Clearwater, during December and more recently has been filling the pulpit of the large First Presbyterian Church of Tampa. He has been invited to preach on Easter morning in the First Presbyterian Church of St. Petersburg.

Physician Finds Capitalistic System Worth Preservation

Dr. Romaine C. Hoffman, of Narberth, addressed fellow members of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Tuesday at the Overbrook Golf Club on the capitalistic system.

While no doubt the "economic royalists" have been guilty of many abuses in the past, he said, nevertheless they make the jobs needed in mass production.

He advocated co-operation between capital and labor and held that it could be had if both sides would be reasonable.

"Give employees as much as you can and we will have a satisfied laboring class," Dr. Hoffman stated.

The speaker was introduced by W. James Drennen, president of the club.

Dr. Richard C. Mears, in charge of arrangements for the district convention to be held at Atlantic City, N. J., April 11 to 13, made announcements about this event.

$111,479 Proposed School Budget; Board Considers Tax Rate Cut

A tentative budget of $111,479 was drawn up by the borough Board of Education last Friday night as the proposed expenditures in the Narberth School District for the school year July 1, 1937, to June 30, 1938.

The budget, which is subject to revision before its passage at the April meeting, at present is $13,572.50 less than the finally adopted budget of 1936-37 of $125,051.50. During the current school year the board paid off $15,000 on old loans.

It is the hope of the directors to further reduce the tax rate this year. Whether this may be done will depend to some extent on the collection of some $13,000 in delinquent taxes and also on indications of how promptly future levies will be paid. The present rate is 18 mills on property valuation and $2 per capita.

Proposed budget items include: General Control—Salaries of secretary, treasurer, auditor and tax collector's commission and administration expenses—$3,216.

Instruction—Salaries of teachers and principal's assistant ($40,115); tuition to Lower Merion Junior and Senior High Schools ($34,000); textbooks, school supplies, etc.—total, $76,583.

Auxiliary Agencies—Transportation ($3,720), recreation, playground, li-

Players In "Sun Up" Achieve New High In Showmanship and Staging

P. T. Barnum was a great showman, but that was before the days of Bill Muller. Last Friday and Saturday the Narberth Players' twenty-fifth production of "Sun Up" indicated the rivalry the grand old circusman can expect in the future. W. H. Muller's showmanship, if possible, eclipsed all other features of one of the finest performances the players have given to date. The scenery, costumes, dialect, properties, lighting and snow effects, and the final finishing touch of hill-billy music by a local orchestra place Mr. Muller on a pedestal of showmanship that should create envy in the hearts of other nearby little theatre groups.

The scenery was outstanding. The interior of the log cabin with exposed beam and fireplace designed to the utmost perfection by George Werner, and the artistic finishing by Jack Clarke that made the logs so true even to the dovetailed corners and the graining of the woodwork in the windows and door created one wish, to rush up and touch it to see if it were real. The backdrops displaying the mountains in the distance in the early fall and later covered with snow proclaim Mr. Clarke to be without a peer amongst amateur groups. Victor Krauskop again displayed great talent in fading and brightening lighting effects that added greatly to the off-stage scenery. The first rising of the curtain brought forth voluminous applause for conception and consummation of realism seldom accomplished anywhere short of the professional stage.

With surroundings of this nature the cast was spurred on to its best efforts, as they conveyed across the footlights a depiction of Carolina mountain life that was so true that the audience was transported into the very atmosphere of the portrayal. Faith Farmer in the lead as Widow Cagle was outstanding. Her scenes with her gun and Rufe's hoe first in the spiritual seance with her son and

Mrs. Joseph H. Miller, of Haverford avenue, was hostess to the Literature Group of the club Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Leon Webster Melcher reviewed "Now and Forever" by Pearl Buck.

The next club meeting will be April 6, at 2 P. M. Mrs. H. D. Jump will speak on "Prison Welfare." Contributions of old clothing are being solicited for this work. The hostess will be Mrs. Frank C. Stiefel.

Vice-President and Directors Chosen by Penn Valley Assn.

Henry W. Pfeffer was chosen vice-president of the Penn Valley Association at a meeting of the Executive Committee Monday night.

The following members were elected to the Executive Committee to serve for the ensuing three years, John Boardman, Sebastian Rudolph and Thomas Skillman.

A new map of Penn Valley drawn up under the direction of the association, was displayed at the meeting. Maps will be available for distribution in the near future.

A number of complaints in regard to noise and late hours at a Wynnewood inn were received. Secretary Jean G. Allen was instructed to look into the matter and determine what is feasible.

Relief Cases Drop

Relief cases in both township and borough decreased last week. Lower Merion, sixty, showed a drop of one case, while Narberth, six, was a decrease of two families on the rolls.

Borough Depositors Will Receive $20,000

Narberth National Dividend
April 1 Will Bring Total
Paid to 55%

SHOW CERTIFICATES

A total of about $20,000 will be available for depositors in the Narberth National Bank on April 1, it was learned this week.

Checks, payable at the National Bank of Narberth, successor to the former institution, will be issued on approximately 1600 accounts.

Depositors must present their certificates of participation in order to obtain the dividend, and no checks will be mailed. The certificates will be stamped and returned to the holders.

The dividend represents 5 per cent of the old bank's total liabilities, or 10 per cent of the liabilities remaining in the hands of the institution's three trustees, George B. Garrett, Albert C. Miller and Clarence Kaerber. Fifty per cent of the funds were made available in May, 1934.

Following the bank holiday early in March, 1933, the Narberth National Bank reopened under restrictions with a conservator, Carl B. Metzger, in charge. In May, 1934, a reorganization plan was approved by Washington and the new bank opened as the National Bank of Narberth.

It was also announced last week by State Secretary of Banking Luther A. Harr that depositors of the closed Counties Title and Trust Company, Ardmore, may expect payment of an initial 5 per cent dividend during the current year.

Secretary Harr stated that an examination of the progress of liquidating the Ardmore bank also indicated that depositors may expect to realize the full 9.6 per cent of their deposits promised them when that institution closed its doors.

"Small Gardens Here and Abroad," will be the topic of the lecture to be given by Richardson Wright, editor of House and Garden, at the meeting of the Garden Club of Bala-Cynwyd, Thursday at 10 A. M. in the Woman's Clubhouse.

Mr. Wright is well-known for his many books on gardening and his work as a journalist on leading American newspapers. He was born in Philadelphia and educated at Episcopal Academy and Trinity College.

The Garden Club will join with the following clubs in presenting the speaker. The Ardmore Nature Club, Berwyn Garden Club, The Gardeners, The Garden Workers, Penn Valley Garden Club and Twin Valleys Garden Club.

At the business meeting, Mrs. William Kurtz Myers, president of the Bala-Cynwyd Garden Club, will preside.

Legion Enjoys Football Films; Memorial Grouping Plan O. K.

Members of both the Narberth American Legion and the Narberth Boys' Club enjoyed films of Penn's games against Navy and Princeton shown by George A. Munger, freshman football coach at the University of Pennsylvania, Tuesday night at the Community Building.

At the business meeting of the Harold D. Speakman Post the commander, Frank J. Dwyer, read resolutions of regret upon the deaths of W. Russell Green, past commander, and John C. Nash, past vice-commander.

A plaque headed "Conservation of Natural Resources is National Defense" presented by the Ladies' Auxiliary was accepted by the post.

Two new members, Clarence Long and Alec Betus, were introduced.

It was also learned that at a recent meeting the Executive Committee approved the preparation of a plan for a Community War Memorial to be dedicated on Memorial Day. It was reported that a topographical survey, made by Frank A. Schrepfer, and a sketch plan for the proposed grouping (which would include Narberth's one-time controversial cannon) have been approved.

A Hearing on the Bridge

Residents of Merion and Narberth, particularly members of the former community's Civic Association, may be interested to learn that the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania will hold a hearing regarding the proposed alteration of approaches and bridge over the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Rockland road in the borough of Narberth, on Wednesday, April 7, 1937, at 10 o'clock A. M. in Hearing Room No. 496, City Hall, Philadelphia.

This legal information was found tucked away in a couple of "exchange" newspapers which reach publication offices of the Eastern Main Line and a few scattered subscribers in this section.

This newspaper is pleased to pass on information about the notice to our readers as a matter of public duty with the additional quotation that "All parties interested, including the owners of adjacent property, may appear and be heard in person or by counsel."

Inquiries revealed that the Legal Notice was placed by The Public Service Commission. Under the present spoils system of course it would be published in newspapers with Democratic or New Deal leanings regardless of what circulation they might have in the section affected.

Hedgerow Theatre Program of Plays for the Week-End

Hedgerow Theatre will present two plays tonight at their playhouse in Moylan.

Bernard Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion" will portray Herbert Walton as Androcles, Mary Escherick as the Lion and Ted Fertik as Ferrovius, a sublimated prizefighter.

As a co-piece of the evening Shaw's one-act, "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets," will be given, with Phyllis Whitehorn in the role of Good Queen Bess, Ferd Nofer as actor-manager-playwright of London's Globe Theatre and Rose Henley as the Dark Lady of uncertain reputation.

Countee Cullen's "One Way to Heaven" will be given tomorrow night, with a mixed white and colored cast. This play depicts a dying man forced to choose between confessing the truth and leaving a bitter memory in the mind of his wife and mother and telling a white lie that will restore their peace of mind.

On April 1 Hedgerow presents Dreiser's "American Tragedy."

Train Kills Woman at Wynnewood

More on Tax Collection

Editor, Our Town:

Your editorial comment upon my letter urging official and popular support of the county unit system of tax collection generously concedes the logic of that position, but voices opposition for three strangely irrelevant reasons:

First, you are against the proposal because expert investigating bodies are for it, since you are against these special investigations of the cost and efficiency of government. The logical conclusion is that you prefer to have the voters and taxpayers act only on the information supplied to them by public officials or party politicians who have a personal interest in the continuance of all existing jobs and all present methods in government. The merits of the proposal (which you do not discuss) are more important than the sources of the facts on which it is based yet it is obvious that if scientific, non-partisan fact-finding about governmental affairs is to be discouraged, as you suggest, the feegrabbers and drones on the public payroll will continue to chuckle while the taxpayer continues to pay till it hurts.

Second, you are for "local representative government," which appears to mean in your mind that every governmental function, regardless of cost or efficiency, must be controlled by elected officials of the smallest political unit. Of course, the voters of Montgomery County do choose the County Treasurer, who would collect the taxes under the proposed county unit plan. Would that build up a machine at Washington or Harrisburg? Is that "nullifying local administration of affairs?" If so, then we ought to set up local machinery in our borough, instead of in the county seat, for the registration of our own wills, the recording of our own deeds, the trial of our own cases at law in our own local courts. Possibly you would favor, also, the return of those halcyon days when every township built and maintained its own roads. Let's take a vote of our motorists on that revival of "local representative government," regardless of cost and efficiency.

Third, you are against the proposal because, for some unexplained reason, it carries, in your mind, a New Deal label. It happens that this particular proposal has nothing to do with the New Deal as such; it was ardently pressed by civic and business organizations long before the New Deal was born. Among its principal sponsors at this moment are the Pennsylvania Economy League, a non-partisan body with a long list of staunchly Republican directors; the Taxpayers' Forum, also a non-partisan body with many Republican sponsors; the League of Women Voters, composed of women of all parties. Benjamin H. Ludlow and many other active Republicans in Montgomery County are in the forefront of the movement. It has been introduced into a predominantly Democratic Legislature, it is true, by a Democratic member. It will have, fortunately, both Democratic and Republican support in House and Senate.

In view of these plain facts, is it not bad citizenship as well as bad politics, to attempt to entangle this question with partisan fear and partisan prejudice? Intelligent taxpayers, confused by partisan appeals, may be temporarily misled into opposing their own interests and into supporting the tax collectors' lobby at Harrisburg. But the more brazenly they are fooled now, the more resentful will be their reaction later. Is it too much to hope that at least some of our local public officials, and political leaders, who may quite properly be interested in revitalizing the party of their choice, may yet repudiate narrowly partisan advice and may exercise now in this simple matter of plain business importance the kind of intelligent and disinterested leadership which will command public respect and confidence in the future?

Very sincerely yours,
KENNETH L. M. PRAY.

The term "bad citizenship" applied to a newspaper's honest criticism of a measure it does not approve exhibits, in a nutshell, our reason for suspicion of New Deal trends. Such intolerance of opposition comment is a reflection of a similar attitude in high places.—Ed.

League Plans Garden Days

Starting April 27, the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters will sponsor visits to historic homes and gardens around suburban Philadelphia.

Mrs. Herman L. Schwartz, of Wynnewood, will serve on the committee which is arranging for these five House and Garden Days.

Where Narberth Tax Dollar Goes in School and Borough Services

penses, and $89,729.56 for expenses of the schools. County taxes are levied by county officials, at the rate of 3 mills or 30 cents per $100, to be used for county purposes. (These figures do not include balances carried over or back taxes paid.)

SCHOOL

The School Tax as levied, is used to pay for tuition, salaries of teachers, text books, heat and light, janitor service, payments for Sinking Funds and Interest on Bonds, care and maintenance of buildings and equipment, and transportation of pupils to Lower Merion High Schools. These expenses would total, approximately as follows (for a school year):

For salaries and office supplies, collection of taxes.	$4,105.00
For salaries of principal and teachers, text books and tuition	74,610.00
For salaries of janitors, fuel and supplies	5,423.00
Transportation and Recreation	4,908.00
Upkeep of grounds and buildings, including repairs	1,617.00
State Retirement Board and Insurance	1,722.00
Redemption of Loans and Sinking Fund Accounts and Interest	16,658.00
	$109,043.00

BOROUGH

The Borough Tax as levied is used to pay for the following items: Sinking Fund Accounts and Interest, set aside each year, to pay off bonds issued to build our streets and sewers, and for the purchase of the playground. These bonds are being retired by payments every five years. Also for police and fire protection (renting of fire plugs, and the purchase of apparatus, hose and equipment); the collection of ashes and rubbish, street repairing, street lights, sewer rental, collection of garbage; the expenses of the Board of Health, to maintain high standards of quality of milk, ice cream, etc.; the cost of maintaining the Library, the Community Building and the Playground, including the salaries of librarian and an assistant, and the supervision of the playground for the younger children, during the summer months; the rent of the Council Chamber, and Borough Offices, salaries, supplies and incidentals, including commission paid for the collection of taxes; and your dollars are spent in approximately the following manner:

Sinking Fund Accounts and Interest	$15,803.86
Police and Fire Protection	18,572.85
Collection of ashes and all highway expenses	20,612.54
Collection of garbage	1,500.00
Board of Health expense	2,249.22
Expenses Library, Community Building and Playground	6,238.68
Rent of Council Chamber and Borough Offices, salaries, printing and supplies, including commission for collection of taxes	7,880.91
Street lighting	3,765.24
Repayment of temporary loans	10,000.00
	$86,623.30

As a concrete example of the above information, let us take a property assessed at $3,000 (and over 70% of the borough is assessed at that amount or less), your total bill would be $111.00 or a few dollars less, if this bill was discounted. If you divide this amount into twelve months, the cost per month would be $9.25, or $2.31 per week, or 33 cents per day, as your portion of the cost, for which you receive:

100% paved streets; sewers; collection of ashes, trash and garbage; street lighting; police and fire protection; library and playgrounds; protection afforded by our local Board of Health; school facilities and complete education through high school, which is of the highest grade and recognized as second to none; also including the retiring of bonds floated for the purpose of making these conveniences and services available.

Per capita and occupation taxes, which are assessed against every adult citizen, are included in funds for school and borough purposes.

Narberth is one of the few boroughs in the State, arranging for installment payment of taxes, for your convenience.

EDWIN P. DOLD,
Tax Collector.

Knox Estate to Found Home for Aged Persons

Charles B. Knox, of Wynnewood, left an estate valued at "$250,000 and upward" his will revealed when filed for probate in Norristown this week.

The residue is bequeathed to a sister, Mrs. Margaret C. Green, in a trust fund. At her death the will establishes the "Charles B. Knox Home" for aged white persons.

"CHINESE DOCTOR"

"They say a Chinese doctor is paid to keep patients well rather than to cure them after they're taken ill. My job's a lot like that. I'm a wire chief in a telephone office. Here we control a great network of wires that make up the brain and nervous system of your telephone service. It's a big responsibility because if we fall down on the job—your service might fall down, too. That must not happen. So, day and night, we're constantly checking circuits, wires, frames and switches to prevent trouble. Checking to find trouble before you find it—to stop it before it affects your service."

No matter how much equipment we have in our central offices, your telephone service will not be all it should be unless you have adequate telephone equipment in your home, office, store or factory. Are you taking advantage of the latest developments? Is your telephone equipment adequate to meet your needs—now? Why not be sure? We'll be glad to check up for you. No obligation, of course. Just call the Business Office.

Girl Scout News

The United Campaign begins its drive for funds during the first week in April. Girl Scouts should back the campaign one hundred per cent. The Girl Scouts are one of the 141 agencies in an organization which is trying to give the youth of the community the experience which will train them to be intelligent participating citizens. Our achievement and success can only come when girl scouting is seen as an essential part of the whole picture of community betterment. All the financial support except for the outdoor program, comes from this fund.

The largest Patrol Leaders' Conference ever held on the Main Line took place at the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church. Forty-eight girls were present and both the younger and the older groups were represented equally. Many excellent suggestions were made for district projects. Some of the most popular ones were: a district amateur hour, an outdoor swimming meet at Martin's Dam, a barn dance, Day Camp again this summer, and a hostel trip over the Horseshoe Trail.

In the near future, Miss Pauline Savage will give a Brownie Course at the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church. All those who are interested should call Bryn Mawr 285.

This Friday over the NBC red network, the program, "Education in the News" will be devoted to the twenty-fifth anniversary of girl scouting.

Plans for Camp Delmont

Plans are being made for the opening of Camp Delmont for the coming season. The opening date has been set at July 3, and it is expected to remain in operation for the following six weeks. However, indications point to increased popularity. New methods of administration and improved facilities for scout work and recreation point to a successful season.

Scouts Prepare for Camporee

Enthusiasm among Main Line troops is growing steadily in preparation for the Valley Forge Council Camporee to be held next May 22 and 23. Increased applications to Board of Review and Court of Honor meetings indicate the interest which is being shown by scouts in the pre-camporee plan. Many troops are awaiting only mild weather to go out on actual camping expeditions and round out their patrols into efficient camping units.

Flower Abundance for All Occasions

By W. O. Hird
of I. N. Simon & Son
The highest ambition of the Home Flower Grower, is to have an abundance of flowers for all occasions, and much of the delight in having a garden comes from being able to supply fresh cut flowers for home decoration, and at the same time to have a fine outdoor display. Annuals are the cheapest of all garden flowers, and a careful selection of varieties can be made to meet all requirements, and give a profusion of blooms from early summer to late in the fall. Annuals are divided into two general groups—the Hardy and the Half Hardy or tender varieties. The Hardy varieties should be sown outdoors any time after the middle of April; the Half Hardy varieties should be started indoors any time during March and April, or they can be sown outdoors after the first of May.

Among the most popular varieties for cutting, are Asters, Snapdragons, Centaurea Imperialis, Calendula, Calliopsis, Candytuft, Carnation, Centaurea Cyanus or Cornflower, Clarkia, Chrysanthemum, Dianthus, Annual Gaillardia, Gypsophila, Helichrysum, Larkspur, Marigold in the various varieties, Nigella, Nasturtium, Penstemon, Phlox, Rudbeckia, Salpiglossis, Scabiosa, Schizanthus, Stocks, Sweet Peas, Verbena and Zinnia.

During the past few years, practically all these varieties have been improved and are easy to grow, because they are of the Hardy type and require very little care to bring them to perfection. To get the best results with Annuals, each plant should be given room to develop, as proper spacing will produce larger and finer flowers, and if the plants are to continue blooming, all faded blooms should be cut off and not allowed to go to seed. This will insure new growth, which will produce new flowers.

Action for divorce has been filed in Norristown by Joseph DeBona, of Narberth, against his wife, Catherine. They were married January 4, 1935.

COAST AROUND THE CLOCK . . . with Supplee Milk

A glass of milk at mid-morning helps take the irk out of housework, gives you precious milk-sugar to fight off fatigue.
Business men find big luncheons slow up afternoon thinking. Keep keen from 2 to 5. Eat sparingly. And drink a glass of milk for its energy-value.
Before retiring, drink a glass of warm milk. Its easily digested nourishment gently draws the blood from the brain to the stomach . . . and off you drift to sleep.

SCIENTIFIC tests with people show that your daily efficiency is related to the amount of sugar in your blood. These tests also indicate that milk-sugar sustains energy longer. So scientists suggest that to keep energetic you should drink milk regularly.

Supplee Milk is produced under the SEALTEST SYSTEM OF LABORATORY PROTECTION . . . an affiliated group of dairy and ice cream companies. It includes over a hundred laboratories and several hundred laboratory technicians. Phone your order to Bryn Mawr 881

Wynnewood Obtains Delivery for Mail

Mail Boxes and House Numbers Being Placed on Community Residences

ASSOCIATION VICTORY

City mail delivery service for Wynnewood, for which agitation has been carried on for nearly a year, will be inaugurated in the very near future, according to an announcement made this week by Mrs. Emma L. Eakins, Wynnewood postmistress. The exact date for the start of the service has not been made public, but a report has been sent to Washington by G. A. Leonard, postal inspector, recommending its adoption.

Last May the Wynnewood Civic Association, meeting in the Agnes Irwin School, appointed a committee to work on the project. A petition was circulated among the residents of the community, and during the summer and early fall over a thousand signatures were obtained.

All during the campaign Mrs. Eakins co-operated wholeheartedly and made a trip to Washington to present the petition to Jesse M. Donaldson, first assistant postmaster general.

The committee backing the project included John V. Calhoun, chairman; George F. B. Appel, T. Bayard Baldridge and William N. West, 3d.

Residents of Wynnewood are now putting up mail boxes and house numbers to conform with the Government's regulations, in preparation for the inauguration of the service. A total of 679 homes are eligible for the city mail delivery, according to recent surveys.

Two routes have been laid out for the mail delivery, one of eight miles, the other of seven. It is expected that at least two additional carriers will be needed by the Wynnewood postoffice to deliver the mail.

"Lost Horizon," Popular Movie, at Chestnut Street Opera House

One of the most popular pictures of the year is "Lost Horizon," which opened at the Chestnut Street Opera House, Philadelphia, February 7 and has been playing twice daily, including Sundays, at 2.30 and 8.30 P. M.

Starring Ronald Colman and featuring Edward Everett Horton, H. B. Warner, Jane Wyatt, Margo, John Howard, Thomas Mitchell, Isabel Jewell and Sam Jaffe, the picture is an adaptation of James Hilton's celebrated novel of the same name.

The story of "Lost Horizon" concerns five persons who are kidnapped in an airplane in China and flown deep into the heart of forbidden Tibet.

Picked up by a caravan headed by a mystic and elderly Chinese, they are escorted to what is perhaps the most unusual place on the face of the earth, the lamasery of Shangri-La.

Romance and adventure fall to the bewildered kidnap victims and soon all but one surrender to the utter contentment and rare loveliness that is Shangri-La.

Mrs. R. D. Lawrence, chairman, with members of the April Circle are the hostesses for luncheon.

It's time to bury the basketball season, and if some one will offer a high enough price we will arrange to have all the referees buried in the same shroud. The game, like the Phoenix, will arise from its ashes again next December to confound and entertain, and I suppose the officials will return to irritate.

The Lower Merion season finale was a devastating disappointment regardless of the choice of words. We had to sit on a hard plank at the Palestra and watch a once great Maroon machine admit defeat to Steelton before the first two minutes of the opening quarter had passed. To see such docility was a decided shock. The final score, 29 to 12. True—the boys were decidedly not themselves and the visiting Steelton team was having exceptional luck in their long-range shooting, but the local boys who had set the Allentown gym on fire the Tuesday previous simply failed to do anything right.

On the other hand, and it is only fair to all to comment on it, the defense of the Steelton team was too much for our players in more ways than one. They employed a rapidly shifting two-one-two defense that is upsetting to teams which have more poise than this year's Lower Merion ensemble. It is humanly impossible for a coach to perform the miracle of preparing an offense against it in the two days of practice that the locals had. The one man on the team that would have been poison to that sort of set-up was Griffith and he, as you know, was unable to play. The officiating, while satisfactory in many ways, was just the type and style that promotes the success of the zone defense. A zone defense, to be effective, must of necessity commit many charging and blocking fouls. The failure of the officials in the early moments of the game to quickly spot these fouls was largely instrumental in the Lower Merion team losing its confidence. The style of officiating used would have been exceptionally good if both teams had been using a man to man defense. This loss of confidence grew as the game progressed, with Steelton having uncanny luck with running shots and Lower Merion failing to take any at all.

The Maroon coaches and players have had a very successful season, one that demands nothing but praise from all. During the final days of the regular campaign the boys put up a brand of basketball that compared favorably with the best high school basketball ever played around Philadelphia. All concerned deserve commendation.

The elimination of the center jump in basketball is one of the gravest mistakes ever made by the National Rules Committee. The game will become a ding-dong, back and forth affair, with no lull or mental rest for the spectators and no physical let-up for the players. Games, like life, need low spots as well as high spots. The continuous strain of suspense in a closely fought game is going to be too hard on most of us, and very annoying too. That pause which ensued while the teams were lining up for the next tap was a welcome respite and saved a lot of doctor's bills.

Since some one invented that monstrosity known as the three second rule the Rules Committee has gone completely "nuts." Some day the wise Fathers are going to snap out of it and say, "You fellows go ahead and play, we're through with your game. The boys in our school are out on the golf course where they can breathe again."

Dr. Palmquist Defends Probe

Charges that it is acting as a "smoke screen" to hide vice and crime conditions in Philadelphia have been denied by Mayor Wilson's Crime Commission through its secretary, Dr. E. A. E. Palmquist, of Narberth.

Dr. Palmquist, who is also secretary of the city's Federation of Churches, has asked that the commission be given time to complete its investigations before it receives criticism.

The Rev. Dr. B. Smith Stull made the accusations Monday.

Ednyfred Lewis Leads Choral's Gondoliers

Bala-Cynwyd Group to Present Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta

Ednyfred Lewis, well-known in musical circles, will direct the cast and chorus of the Bala-Cynwyd Choral's production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Gondoliers" next Friday and Saturday evening at the Woman's Clubhouse.

Recognized for his splendid ability in training and directing chorus work, Mr. Lewis has been responsible during past years for the Welsh Eisteddfod Chorus of Philadelphia, leading them to victory in each contest they have entered throughout the State.

Assistant director of the Strawberry and Clothier Chorus under Dr. Herbert Tily, Mr. Lewis is at present assuming the directorship of the organization.

Stepping from the ranks of the chorus, five members of the choral appear in solo parts for the first time.

Winifred Tilbury and Phyllis Woodrow who came from the Narberth Choral Group last year, will sing the roles of Fiametta and Giulia. Edwin P. Blair who also joined last year will take the part of Giorgio.

Veterans of the Choral are Arthur McVickar and John Hastings, appearing as Francesco and Antonio.

Viola McCord will make her debut with this group as Vittoria, while Mrs. George Washington Moore, who needs no introduction to Bala-Cynwyd audiences, will sing the role of Inez, the King's foster-mother.

So don't forget—a week from tonight and tomorrow night "The Gondoliers" on the stage of the Woman's Clubhouse, to be followed by dancing.

The tax is light—65 cents for adults, 50 cents for children under 16.

The Choral wishes to extend to the Bala-Cynwyd Junior Club its heartiest congratulations on the tremendous success of its spring play. We can only hope that you enjoy our performance as much as we enjoyed theirs!

Presidents and fire chiefs of the five Lower Merion companies will be guests, together with borough officials and council members and the active firemen and their officers. A door prize has been donated for the latter group.

An entirely home-cooked dinner will be served and the Mulieres expect to be busy all day April 1 in the preparation of a menu that will outdo all of its predecessors.

While the dinner is exclusively for the firemen and their guests, the doors at Elm Hall will be thrown open at 9 P. M. for the wives of members, after which dancing will be in order until midnight.

Narberth Versus Penn Wynne for Main Line League Title

Playoff for the Main Line Basketball League title was scheduled to start this Thursday evening between first-half champions of Penn Wynne and second-half winners of Narberth. Jay Neill's borough team dropped a thriller to Conshohocken Hi-Y at the iron town Monday night, 38-35.

Troop 47, Girl Scouts

The regular scout meeting of Troop 47 was held on March 19 at 7:15. We started with a formal opening. The two patrol leaders, Ellen May Rush-ton and Mary Henshaw, acted as color guards. This was succeeded by patrol corners. We did our routine business and planned a hike for April 10. The rest of the evening was spent in passing our second-class work. With a little effort some of the girls hope to pass their second-class work this spring. The meeting was closed by a good-night circle, but all the girls wanted to stay later and play games. SCRIBE M. HENSHAW.

Troop 8, Girl Scouts

Girl Scout Troop 8 of Narberth, had an informal but important meeting Tuesday night. We practiced a pageant we are going to put on at the Golden Eagle presentation. Next Tuesday we will have a dress rehearsal. We hope our plan will be successful and we know we are going to have a lovely Golden Eagle presentation and Court of Awards. Scribe, JEAN SIMPSON.

Players in "Sun Up" Achieve New High in Showmanship and Staging

later her final exit held the audience spellbound. Fay Fetteroff as Emmy in her first appearance for the players gave due evidence of the training she has had, in that she seemed perfectly at home at all times and displayed the emotions of love and sorrow with a touch that will insure her many more important parts that undoubtedly will fall to her lot. Bill Hand as the Sheriff in his first appearance before any little theatre group, in this important role crashed through with a bit of acting that promises a great future for him. George McAllister as "Bud" again proved his breadth of ability in portraying this weak-minded and crippled character.

Edward Batchelor as the continually inebriated "Pop Tod" gave a characterization of this corn juice lover that was delightful to witness. Paul Goodyear as "Rufe" again showed he was at home at all times on the stage, while Paul Brown as "The Stranger" showed promise of better parts to come. Roger Burns and George Supplee in minor roles rounded out a cast that may be justly proud of their efforts.

A number of stage pictures were worthy of the highest commendation, particularly the one with "Widow Cagel" seated by the fireplace in the early dawn in Act 3, and the group discussing the wedding and Rufe's departure in Act 2.

This reviewer finds it exceptionally hard to offer any suggestions to this ambitious group. However, with the thought of aiding by observations given in a spirit of constructiveness it might be stated that in a few spots there was some lack of emotion or true voice work, while at others slight overacting. It is suggested that two of the stage pictures could have been slightly improved. Widow Cagel's spiritual seance would have been more effective if she could have had the benefit of the glow of the fire upon her face, and her scene before her final exit would have been better if enacted closer to the footlights. These few minor inexactitudes, however, did not detract in the slightest from an otherwise perfect performance. CONSENSUS.

Since 1914 he has been publisher of Town and Country, a paper founded by his father in 1899.
